Coast Highway Work Is Urged By Supervisors

Deeds Affecting Land Along Right-of-Way Revealed on File

An appeal to the state highway commission to undertake work on the Ocean Shore highway from Sharp's Park to San Francisco and on other units of the vital coastside artery was made Monday by the board of supervisors at a meeting here.

The board pointed out that state and federal funds have been made available for the work, but the construction has not been undertaken.

Work on the project has been halted, legal and engineering aides point out, by the delay in securing a reply from Attorney General U. S. Webb as to whether or not the state can sue for the right-of-way. District Attorney Edmund Scott asked the ruling several months ago.

Supervisor Albert Witt, Colma, brought the appeal for action to the attention of the board, and had a resolution drawn calling upon the state to undertake the work at once.

Each city of the peninsula will be asked to concur in the board's resolution, as well as the San Francisco board. The resolution was adopted on Witt's motion and the second of Supervisor Manuel Francis.

LAND RIGHTS DEEDED

Deeds on file with County Recorder T. C. Rice today showed the deeding from the McNee Company to the Ocean Shore Railroad Company of all interest in a 110-foot strip of right-of-way on the coastside, which is believed to affect the coast highway.

Selah Chamberlain, Woodside, has also deeded his interest in the same right-of-way to the same company, and the Ocean Shore Railway Company has deeded its interest in turn to the Ocean Shore Railroad Inc.

It is stated that the "intent is to convey all real property lying between the westerly line of Junipero Serra boulevard in San Francisco and Davenport in Santa Cruz county."

TEACHERS LIKELY TO GET FULL PAY

State Without Funds; Warrants Expected To Be Honored

San Mateo county teachers were not expected to be seriously affected by the announcement from Sacramento of Controller Ray L. Riley that the state will be unable to make its December apportionment to public schools.

Banks of the peninsula were expected to work out a solution which will permit the registering of warrants.

Registration of warrants until February, when the state will make a double apportionment to offset the $6,881,407 payment skipped this month, appears to be the solution, but other means may be found to pay teachers their salary, Controller Edward M. Stack said today.

The question which the bankers were expected to raise was who would take care of the interest on the loans, but this problem was expected to be worked out.

Riley's announcement carried home to school rooms the state's financial plight. The deficit, placed at $13,438,000 November 1, is expected to reach $32,000,000 by July 1, 1935.

February 1 will bring into the treasury a semi-annual public utility tax payment of approximately $17,000,000, as well as a quarterly sales tax installment.

Santa Claus Will Be at Territo's Christmas Party

Santa Claus is coming back to Redwood City to visit all the kiddies of the community once more before Christmas it was announced today. This time he will be at Territo's big annual Christmas party which will be held at Territo's Super Market on Thursday evening, December 20th, at 7 p. m. There will be bags of candy, several gifts and a handshake from jolly old Saint Nick, himself.

All the boys and girls up to 10 years of age are invited, according to Mr. Joseph Territo, proprietor and host for the evening at this annual event that has proven so successful each year.

SEQUOIA TRUSTEES PICK BRUNNIER TO UNDERTAKE QUAKE-PROOFING SURVEY

H. J. Brunnier, well-known San Francisco structural engineer, was employed by the Sequoia high school board of trustees yesterday evening to make a thorough inspection and study of the school plant to determine what is needed to make the auditorium and two gymnasiums, which have been closed, earthquake-proof.

Selection of Brunnier by the board followed conferences with him and two other engineers, L. H. Nishkian and W. L. Huber.

All three men, considered the best obtainable, spent yesterday afternoon studying the recent report of the state division of architecture, which told of the weaknesses in the Sequoia buildings, and the local buildings themselves. They were then each interviewed separately by the board, which chose Brunnier.

BEGINS AT ONCE

"The choice was difficult, but we feel that he is the best qualified man to do the work," James D. Hedge, president of the board, said today.

The engineer will begin his work at once. He will first make a complete and thorough study of the state report, and will probably go to Sacramento to confer with architects there. He will then go over each building here, including those not closed, to determine what quake-proofing steps must be taken. His findings will be submitted to the state division of architecture for approval.

Then when the cost of the proposed improvements are determined, a bond issue to finance the work will be submitted to the people.

IF COST IS LOW—

If the engineer should determine the gymnasiums can be made safe with small expendtiure, the board of trustees may undertake that work from a fund they have available, Hedge said today, but it is doubtful if the money they have will cover cost of repairs.

Brunnier's work here is expected to take a number of weeks. His findings must be checked and rechecked to make sure the proposed repairs will make the buildings safe. At the same time, it is desirable that the work be done at the least possible cost, Hedge explained today.

EXPERT IN HIS LINE

Brunnier, a graduate of the Iowa State College, has been engaged in structural engineering since 1904 with an office in San Francisco since 1908. He was appointed as one of the five members of the consulting engineers' board at the inception of the $75,000,000 San Francisco-Oakland bay bridge project, being selected from the United States at large.

Much of Brunnier's experience has been gained through structural engineering projects for commercial, school and other public buildings, many of which required solution of earthquake stability and difficult foundation problems. Among these are buildings for the University of California at Berkeley and at Los Angeles.

The engineer has also held many community and vocational positions of honor. He is a past president of the state board of registration for civil engineers, past president of the structural engineers association of Northern California, past president of the California State Automobile Association, and a past officer of many other organizations. He is now president of the engineers' club of San Francisco, and director of several other organizations.

Frazer Stores Draw Surprise Bids In Court

Judge Swart's Session Suddenly Becomes 'Auction Mart'

Sale of the stocks of the two Frazer stores in Palo Alto to Weinstein Company Inc., San Francisco, for $39,794.05 and T. C. Christy, Palo Alto, for $6300 were confirmed Monday by Superior Judge Franklin Swart. An appraisal of the estate, filed today by H. C. Tuchsen, gave the value of the late merchant's holdings as $420,534.31, exclusive of accounts receivable.

SURPRISE BIDS MADE

Superior Judge Franklin Swart's court took on the appearance of an auction mart today when new bids for the Frazer stores in Palo Alto were submitted at what was supposed to be a hearing for confirmation of bids received November 28.

As a result of the bids received, offering of which occupied the court until noon, Judge Swart adjourned the hearing until this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Coroner J. C. McGovern, administrator for the estate, asked the court for confirmation of bids received from Weinstein & Company of San Francisco and T. C. Christy of Palo Alto for the department and men's stores, respectively.

HIGHER BIDS ENTERED

This provoked a bid of $36,000 from W. H. Kelly, Palo Alto, with an auction mart Monday when new department store for 10 years; a bid of $50,000 cash for the two stores' merchandise and fixtures by Jerrold H. Baer, of San Francisco; a bid of $41,000 by Liberman-Rosencrantz Company of San Francisco for the department store, and a bid of $51,000 for both stores' stock and fixtures by Irving Gollober of San Francisco.

Weinstein had previously bid $39,794.05 for the stock of the department store, and Christy had offered $6300 for stock and fixtures of the men's store. With Christy's bid was included assurance he would operate the store until its lease expires next September. Weinstein had agreed to remove the stock from Palo Alto within five days of confirmation of the sale.

SEEKS BEST OFFER

Judge Swart was not inclined to accept any of the bids "on the spot," but said the only question was whether bids should be reopened to everyone. He explained he was anxious to get the most he could out of the stores for the estate, keeping in mind the fact the estate owned the building and real estate, appraised at $115,000, where the department store is conducted, and that continued operation of the stores would be advantageous for Palo Alto as a whole, for the workers employed by the stores and for the estate.

On the other hand, he said he recalled when he was a "kid" he offered a small amount for a piece of old wire and had it accepted, only to later have another youngster outbid him by 10 cents and secure the wire. "That has always rankled within me," the jurist said, adding he didn't believe, once bids had been secured, that further bids should be accepted.

Claude Fox to Write Article On Wild Water Fowl Condition

By CLAUDE FOX

Claude Fox, short story writer for this paper, recently returned from an extended visit to his old friend and hunting companion, Geo. Genochio, who is in charge of the Ted Lowe Duck Club four miles south of Willows, county seat of Glenn county.

At the time of his visit the wild duck and goose shooting season was not open, but the two old pals who have hunted ducks for a period of over forty years had an excellent opportunity to study the wild duck situation from every angle.

In an article soon to follow in this paper Fox will attempt to show, based on a long experience, the conditions concerning wild water fowl as they exist at the present time.

To a reporter for this paper Fox said:

"My trip north was a most enjoyable one from start to finish. George and his wife, with the assistance of their little boy, Billy, did everything possible to make my visit pleasant and a memorable one. Mr. Lowe and his wife, who own the duck club over which George is keeper, treated me with the greatest kindness."

"Both Glenn and Colusa counties abound in wild game, particularly ducks, geese, pheasants, deer and jack rabbits. The folowing are so numerous that you will stumble over them if you do not watch your step."

"One of the most pleasant and instructive episodes of my visit in the northland was a trip which I enjoyed in company with Mr. Lee Atkinson, a state game warden, into the mountains to the west of Willows. Mr. Atkinson was checking up on the numerous deer hunters to see that they were complying with the requirements of the law. During my life in the pursuit of wild game it has been my privilege to meet a number of the state officers at various times, but I wish to go on record as saying that Lee Atkinson is one of the most conscientious officers I have ever met. He is a gentleman at all times, a man who, while holding an official position, treats those with whom he comes in contact as his equal. If they are gentlemen they will find him the same, but woe betide the one who, having violated the laws of the state, and attempting to bluff his way out, acts the part of the rough neck. It is then the question of a ticket which means that such a party must appear in court and tell it to the judge."

"My visit is frought with many pleasant recollections and if I live to be three score and ten, which will not be long now, I shall again look forward with no small degree of pleasure to an opportunity to again visit Willows and renew my acquaintance with those whom I met there on my recent trip."

YARDS HERE NEED ATTENTION

NEGLECT SCORED BY FORUM WRITER

URGE FARMERS' MARKET PLACE

More pride in our yards is something Redwood City needs!

"When I came here and drove around town, looking it over, I was surprised, not to say shocked, to see how many people don't even have a lawn in their front yard," says an evident newcomer to Redwood City in today's Tribune forum.

"Some have weeds a foot tall for a lawn," says the writer. "I don't say it's that way all over town, but certain sections of it are disgraceful. Why can't we have a little civic pride on the part of the individuals?"

MARKET PLACE URGED

An open air market in a public square where farmers could bring their foodstuffs and offer them for sale, is another proposal made in the "What This Town Needs" forum.

"One day each week this town needs a Farmer's Market Day," says the contributor. "Anyone raising anything in the food line would be given an opportunity to sell it in the open air market under sanitary conditions as provided for by the board of health, free of rent.

"Conducted once a week it would not be too much in competition with the stores, yet would afford the small growers a chance to make a little for themselves," the writer explains.

CITIZEN BODY URGED

"What this town needs," says another, "is a representative body of citizens selected from all clubs, service organizations, churches, fraternities, woman's auxiliary, improvement clubs, and so forth, to make an analysis of all the suggestions or constructive criticisms offered in The Tribune's splendid, progressive, up-to-date campaign on what this town needs."

"Without question," says the writer, "from the minds of all of these much good may be released into action."

(Editor's note: Such a body is the Citizens Council on Constructive Economy formed sometime ago and subject to meeting at call).

"Your campaign stimulates good citizenship and, although not given to flattery, needs commendation from 'sound' thinkers," another contributor declares.

"Most of such things die as the flash in the pan; this one must have struck a responsive chord and may it continue to grow from unselfish thought into a service prodding all of us on and upward to a richer, all-around enjoyable life—reaping joy through the fun of doing things."

WHERE TO COMPLAIN

"I get sick and tired of hearing people on the street corner telling what the city council should do," writes one reader. "Why don't they go to council meetings and tell the councilmen themselves what the town needs?

"'This town ought to do this,' and 'this town ought to do that' can be heard nearly every day from some of our corner politicians. I have an idea the council might like to know about some of these things. So—what this town needs is more people to bring problems before the councilmen. Don't think I'm a councilman, for I'm not," the writer concludes.

Hirschey Will Handle Reporting Service In 4th District

Announcement of the appointment of Claude J. Hirschey of San Mateo as supervisor of the fourth California district was received from Washington today by the federal state crop reporting service in Sacramento, the United Press reported. Hirschey aided the campaign of Congressman John J. McGrath.

Hirschey wil make his headquarters in Fresno. The agricultural survey will start shortly after the first of the year, the report stated.

The counties in the fourth district and the number of enumerators to be named by Hirschey in each include:

Fresno, 41; Kings, 10; Madera, 8; Merced, 17; Monterey, 11; San Benito, 6; San Mateo, 4; Santa Clara, 28; Santa Cruz, 9; and Stanislaus, 26.

Forces Unite Against Bridge Rail Contract

Aversion to Monopoly Voiced in Briefs Of Two Cities

With forces from both sides of the bay united against approval of the proposed contracts between the California Toll Bridge Authority and Southern Pacific and Key System for interurban service over the new bridge, briefs were on file today with the state railroad commission protesting the granting of the franchise.

San Mateo and Alameda counties and Oakland and Berkeley cities were on record as disapproving the contracts, the two cities submitting their opposition in a joint brief.

On behalf of San Mateo county, Harry M. Wade, Paul A. McCarthy, attorneys representing the board of supervisors, and District Attorney Edmund Scott filed a brief with the commission protesting granting of the franchises.

'PUBLIC'S INTEREST'

"The board of supervisors of San Mateo county are convinced that it is to the best interest of the public that these applications be denied without prejudice to applicants, if they desire later to file applications on terms more favorable to the public," the brief states.

"We feel that arrangements should be made for rail transportation of passengers over the bridge under conditions that extend the benefits of that structure to the people of the metropolitan area in a practical way by making its San Francisco terminal the common center of all transportation lines serving suburban territory on both sides of the bay.

"In our judgment, any other disposition of the subject will be detrimental to a large part of the public.

"In the San Francisco district we have a large population making extended use of the rail lines daily, which would, under normal conditions, make use of a terminal almost continuously.

ASKED CENTRAL TERMINAL

"A central and adequate terminal, together with proper service, would unquestionably cause people to make greater use of rail facilities in preference to other modes of travel.

"We are looking at the situation both from the view point of today and the future, which can reasonably be expected to bring great increases in poulation, therefore no little and makeshift plans should be considered.

"With this thought in mind, we again request the commission to order a general investigation such as accorded Los Angeles in the Union Depot case, to the end that all parts of the San Francisco metropolitan district shall receive its just desserts and be given the maximum opportunity to grow and prosper."

The cities' protest to the contracts which would give the roads a thirty-five year rail monopoly over the bridge were contained on seven principal grounds.

UPHOLD RIGHTS

"The rights of the public of the two east bay cities can only be upheld if our points are upheld," the two attorneys who filed the briefs said.

"The state railroad commission is not in a position at this time to fix the fares for bridge transportation. The contracts were hurriedly prepared."

No fair rate can be established by the commission before actual operation of the bridge, attorneys for the cities pointed out. They asked that the present fares be maintained.

COMMISSION HAS POWER

Sole power to nullify any contract between the state toll bridge authority and the railroads seeking to use the San Francisco-Oakland bay bridge for interurban traffic is vested in the state railroad commission.

The commission has the power to refuse to authorize any contract which may not serve the ends of public convenience.

Disapproval of the interurban transportation plan as outlined by the two roads in the contracts which they have submitted to toll autority as been made in resolutions adopted by the San Francisco board of supervisors.

Further opposition to it has been announced by the East Bay Regional Plan association.

County Insists On Augmented Traffic Patrol

Supervisors to Appeal To Cato to Secure Necessary Funds

With its highways reported turned into "slaughterhouses" because of frequent deaths in automobile mishaps, the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors Monday determined to make a strong appeal to the California Highway Patrol to augment the present traffic squad.

Supervisor Albert Witt, Colma, who made the "slaughterhouse" reference, asked Chairman C. V. Thompson to appoint a committee of three to go to Sacramento to place the matter directly before E. Raymond Cato, chief of the California patrol.

Cato, in a letter to the board today, said that San Mateo county's recent request for additional officers could not be filled. Notwithstanding Cato's reply, the board decided to carry the appeal to him in person.

Thompson named Witt and Supervisors John Poole, Redwood City, and Manuel Francis, Half Moon Bay, as the committee of three.

24 OFFICERS ASKED

Witt said the present force of 19 should be increased to 24 officers.

Cato informed the board in his letter that he was aware of the need for additional officers, but said "at the present time funds are not available to take care of the situation. Appointments have been made in San Mateo county more recently than in other counties where the need is fully as great. Therefore, we must give consideration to problems of other districts and not discriminate against them in favor of San Mateo county."

Witt will seek the assistance of San Francisco in the appeal because the majority of persons killed are from that county and most of the traffic originates there.

John P. Flaherty, 29, Box 155, Belmont, filed an application with the board today for appointment to the county patrol.

Greyhound Offers Excursion Rates During Yuletide

The people of Redwood City and neighboring territory will be afforded the opportunity of traveling home over Christmas and New Years at special low excursion bus fares, according to word just received from F. A. Spiering, local agent for Pacific Greyhound Lines

Spiering stated that special preparations have been made to accommodate holiday travelers. Not only are fares lowered, but 37 new streamline buses have recently been added to the present large Greyhound fleet at a cost of approximately one-half million dollars, in order to adequately take care of all Greyhound passengers.

LAMSON STAYS IN JAIL CELL DURING RITES

Declines to Attend Mother's Services At Palo Alto

PALO ALTO, Dec. 10 (Special)—By his own choice, David Lamson, charged with the murder of his wife, Allene, remained in the solitude of his cell at the county jail in San Jose today as funeral services for his mother, Mrs. A. B. ("Jennie") Lamson, were held here at 1 o'clock.

The services were held in the Tinney Funeral Home and the hour was guarded to keep away the curious. Relatives and about 75 friends were admitted to the services. The Rev. Paul Reagor of the First Christian Church, Oakland, officiated. He was one of the ministers aiding the Lamson defense.

Cremation at Alta Mesa Cemetery followed the rites.

Mrs. Lamson died Saturday from injuries suffered in an automobile accident while enroute to visit her son, who is awaiting a new trial.

Lamson made no effort to obtain his release temporarily to attend the private funeral services.

"I do not believe I should attend my mother's funeral with this charge hanging over my head," Lamson said. "When I leave this cell I want to leave as a free man."

Local Man Heads Democratic Club

Dr. Robert Frazier of Redwood City was last night elected president of the San Mateo County Democratic Club, Inc., at a meeting held in Burlingame. He succeeds Judge Walter M. Bird of Burlingame.

Other officers elected were Olin Knuckles, Jerome Casey, J. H. Sullivan, H. E. Griffittes, Daniel C. George and E. L. Charpentier, vice presidents; Anna Karstensen, secretary; E. J. Heartner, treasurer; R. E. Burkhead, sergeant at arms, and A. B. Swift, George Larsen and T. G. King, directors.

Burlingame May Cut Tax Penalty

BURLINGAME, Dec. 11.—Possibility that the city council here will take steps at its Monday meeting to decrease tax delinquency penalties from 10 per cent on the first installment and 5 per cent on second installment payments to 8 per cent on the first, 3 per cent on the second and 1 per cent per month after sale date loomed today as the result of a meeting here last night.

Property owners met with the councilmen to discuss reduction of penalties. Recently the council declared a moratorium on taxes until December 31.

It was also urged at the meeting that all penalties on taxes that have become delinquent during the past five years, except the 10 and 5 per cent penalties for one year plus advertising cost, be dropped, providing the owners pay the taxes within a year.

FRAZER ESTATE DETAILS REVEALED

Investments Found in 58 Different Corporations; Value $420,534.31

James Frazer, deceased Palo Alto merchant, evidently believed in the old adage, "Don't put all your eggs in one basket."

While he was known chiefly for his merchandising activity, an analysis of the appraisal of the estate of Frazer, whose will, if he had one, can't be found, showed today that the $420,534.31 estate he left consists of many and diverse investments.

More than half the man's money was invested in securities, mainly stocks, of 58 corporations. The total amount is $213,284.52, according to the findings of H. C. Tuchsen, who was employed by Coroner J. C. McGovern, as administrator of the estate, to appraise the Frazer property. Among these 58 are the Palo Alto Mutual Building and Loan Company, Peninsula Building and Loan Association, Palo Alto National Bank and Palo Alto Masonic Temple Association.

Frazer's second heaviest investment was in his stores. The building and real estate in Palo Alto where the department store is located was appraised at $115,000, while stock in the store is listed at $50,000, though it brought but $39,794.05 from Weinstein & Company of San Francisco, successful bidder. Fixtures in the store were listed at $1,500. Merchandise in the men's store, which brought $6,000 at the recent sale, was listed by Tuchsen as being worth $7,500. Fixtures in the men's store were appraised at $300, which is the price they brought.

Other assets of the Frazer estate, as unearthed by McGovern, are $9,220.69 cash; $71.25 personal property; $1,798.08 investment certificates; $14,550.07 promisorry notes (29 of them); $6,309.70 unimproved property; and $1,000 building lot.

Twenty people claiming to be relatives of the late merchant, who lived a solitary life and who apparently had no very close friends or confidantes, have filed notice of appearance in superior court here, and will probably put in claims for their shares of the estate.

BOY RUNS AWAY

BURLINGAME, Dec. 11.—Police were today asked to search for Fred Threlkeld, 15, who left his home here December 9. It is believed he might have gone to sea. He ran away once before and was found in San Francisco.

Belmont to Deck Streets for Yule

Instead of having the usual outdoor Christmas tree, the Belmont Fire Department plans this year to decorate all streets entering into El Camino Real with colored electric lights.

The change was explained by Fire Chief William "Smokey" Neilson as a move to stop the annual cutting down of huge fir trees, which in several years would leave San Mateo county wihtout any large trees. The watersheds would also be affected if hillsides were laid bare.

The committee in charge of the lights consists of Chief Neilson, Police Chief Fred Johnson, Elwood Curtis, H. W. Hannibal, John Staugus and Capt. A. T. Hasbrouck.

Christmas baskets will also be distributed to needy Belmont families, through the co-operation of the fire department.

Carl Rasmussen Sues To Annul Marriage

Charging that his wife refused to live with him, Carl Rasmussen of Redwood City today instituted proceedings in superior court here to have his marriage to Mary Rasmussen annulled. The couple married July 31, 1933, and separated October 1 of the same year, according to the complaint. Mrs. Rasmussen is now in Missouri, the complaint states.
